WEDNESDAY, JULY, 11 1900.

BRECKENRIDGE county never had a finer prospect for crops.

LORD CURZON has cabled that 6,013,000 famine sufferers are receiving relief.

THE nearest correct guess to the population of the United States gets $15,000 in the News grand distribution.

NEXT to Wm. J. Bryan, the most conspicuous figure at the Kansas City convention was ex-senator David B. Hill of New York.

$25,000 distributed in one thousand cash prizes to the paid up one year in advance subscribers of the BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

EDITOR SUMMERS of the Elizabethtown News is evidently out in the weather waiting for something political to strike him.

SUBSCRIPTIONS must be fully paid up and one year in advance before a subscriber is entitled to a guess in our cash distribution of $25,000.

MR. HILL positively declined the nomination for Vice President with Bryan evidently because he could not walk that free silver plank. In 1896 Mr. Hill was an ardent sound money Democrat.

THE St. Louis strike is on again. The boycott is now against the St. Louis Transit company, who it is claimed, violated its contract of July 3, in regard to the re-instatement of striking employees.

W. J. BRYAN is considerable of a Mark Hanna himself. What he says goes with the Democrats and what Mark says goes with the Republicans. We don't see any difference in being Hannaized or Bryanized.

THE difficulty attending the election of the Populist and Free Silver party is that in case of national success they would be unable to give the people any assurance of a stable and well disciplined form of government.

JACK GROSS and the Hon. W. E. Minor are as thick as blackberries in July. They are working to carry this county for Lewis or any other man to beat Beckham and if Dave Murray don't watch 'em they'll do it.

WM. J. BRYAN and Adlai A. Stevenson, his running mate, are said to be quite opposite in personality. Mr. Bryan is very aggressive while Stevenson is of a compromising disposition. He was made an alternate delegate to the convention but did not attend.

THE latest reports from Pekin regarding the safety of the ministers and other foreigners is more favorable. Japan has ordered another expedition of 23,000 men and 5,000 horses. Admiral Kempff has appealed for more men and it is believed that more troops have been ordered sent from the Philippines.

COLLECTOR E. T. FRANKS, of Owensboro, Kentucky member of the committee appointed to notify Mr. McKinley of his nomination for President, will join that committee today at Cleveland, O., from which place they will go to Canton tomorrow to perform their agreeable mission. Their visit will probably not be unexpected.

DR. WALTER T. ROBERTS, a practicing physician of Louisville, has been nominated for Governor by the Social Democrats who held their state convention in Louisville last week. Job Harriman for Vice-President on the Social Democratic ticket, Eugene Debs and other lights of this political reform party were present and addressed the convention.

In this issue appears the semi-annual statement of the Bank of Hardinsburg. This bank, whose establishment is of comparatively recent date, is doing a good business thanks to the prosperity that prevails throughout the county and to the fine executive ability possessed by the worthy officials into whose care and keeping the wealth of the people is confided.

THE first day of the trial of the Goebel assassination cases in the Scott county circuit court at Georgetown Monday, July 9, passed without any dramatic incidents save the searching of all spectators for concealed deadly weapons. The case of Caleb Powers was the first called. The defense was not ready and a day's delay was asked and granted. Evidence has been discovered locating the three shots which did not hit Goebel. They are said to have been found in the floor of the Secretary of State's office. The majority of witnesses are present and both sides are said to be anxious for a speedy trial.

GENERAL DIAZ has been re-elected President of Mexico.

DICK OWEN and Dave Moorman came home from the Kansas City Convention delighted with their trip and proud of the work of the convention. They say it was the most enthusiastic body of men they ever saw and that the ticket named is a sure winner. They were loud in their praise of Missouri, its lands, stock and up-to-date farms.

EVERY visitor to the Kansas City Convention who kept his eyes open for the signs of the times and who was capable of being convinced of the right must have returned from the trip to that bustling western city singing a new song. Calamity howlers no longer have an excuse for existence. The story of unemployed labor is a back number and there is work and a plenty for every man who has the mental capacity or the physical energy to do it. Prosperity is in evidence all over the land but in no section more apparently so than in Kansas and Missouri. Crops are good in the rural districts and business is rushing in the towns and cities. The country now is in an almost unexampled condition of prosperity and prospects could not be better for a continuance of the same.

A NEW phase of detective ingenuity was made manifest at Kansas City last week which showed Kentuckians up in a bad light and sustained their reputation as thirsty desperadoes. On the floor before each bar was a device known as the cyclone sifter which is a hole in the floor, covered with ornamental open work. It looks like an immense hot air register out of which come great drafts of air. Everyone who goes to the bar to get a drink has to cross one of these sifters, the blasts of air from which blow his coat up almost to his shoulders, enabling the keen eye of the house detective to discover what sort of weapons he carries in his hip pocket and to govern himself accordingly.

THE Hon. W. E. Minor has it in for Beckham. Minor was an original Goebel man. He stood up for him in this county when no other man was brave enough to do it. He was sat upon in the convention that instructed for Hardin. When Goebel got the nomination he went out and spoke for him. Goebel appreciated this and said to Mr. Minor, "I never forget a friend." Goebel was assassinated and as a matter of course he looked to Beckham for a fulfillment of his chief's wishes. Minor laid his case before Beckham and was not recognized. He was not even given a hearing. Hence it is that Mr. Minor is doing all he can to beat Beckham.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT is on the right lines in his western speeches. He is patriotic and business like. He advocates the adoption of the same principles in national and military life that are accepted in individual and civic life. He says in part: "We want not mere lip loyalty, but active doing. You have got to have patriotism, but you have got to have straight shooting. You have the same qualities in civic life as in military. You have got to have courage, a virtue for which nothing else will atone. There is no prosperity without honesty, clean living, decency and uprightness. You need the same qualities in public life as in private life. When a nation is wise enough to tolerate no difference between promise and performance it will prosper. Promise is good so long as it is backed up by performance, and not otherwise. You have got to have honesty first, but you need more courage. If honest and timid, failure may be expected. You have got to have an addition to honesty, courage and gameness." In addressing the people at Lake Contrary he gave some true causes of prosperity: "You people in St. Joseph are doing mighty well. You are not only prospering in your manufacturing interests, but you are prospering in your banking business, as shown in your bank clearings. This you owe to no one but yourselves. It is the result of your energy and your enterprise. Never make the mistake that any system of administration will bring you prosperity, for it will not do it. Nothing but your own industry and enterprise will do that. It cannot be done by law. Prosperity can be hampered by law, but it can not under any circumstances be made by law. It is enterprise that succeeds, and the man in office must be enterprising in order to make the government he represents succeed. The men who do not help themselves would not succeed if they were helped. The state, therefore, can not do more than give a fair field for the energies of its own people."

Whiskey Wins Again.

The local option contest came before the Commissioners John Jennings, Tice Jolly and Taylor Beard Saturday, July 7 in the old Presbyterian church. Attorneys for both sides presented their arguments after which the board decided in favor of the saloons. The case will be appealed to the circuit court which convenes in October.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Mrs. Edwin McGinnis returned to her home in Evansville, Ind., Sunday. She has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Hoffus.

"After having a mishap, I suffered with pain in my left side and a lingering cough which grew worse and worse," writes Mrs. Cora Brooks, of Martin, Franklin County, Georgia. "Last spring I got past doing anything and my husband went to the drug store and called for Wine of C—, and the merchant recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, so he bought one bottle. I began to take it as directed in the pamphlet wrapped around the bottle. The book said if the disease was complicated with cough to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' alternately, and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets on rising every morning. Mr. Brooks went back to the drug store and got the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I took it as directed. The cough left me at once and I began to get better so rapidly my husband was astonished at my improvement. I am now able to work on the farm and also do the washing for two families."

BATTLETOWN.

Harvesting about done.

Mrs. Frank Greer is seriously ill.

Mrs. Issie Kendall is able to be up again.

Mr. Micajah Foot has been quite ill during the past week.

Mr. Frank Greer and myself were in Brandenburg Saturday.

Mr. Ward Bennett was the guest of Miss Myrtle Chism Sunday.

Mr. Siles Thompson, of Hardin county, is visiting his parents here.

The good qualities of a man are seldom referred to until after his death.

Rev. Hummel filled his regular appointment at Cold Spring Sunday night.

Mrs. Annie Haynes, who has long suffered with spinal trouble, is improving nicely.

Rev. John L. Beanblossom, of Titus, Ind., was here last week viewing cattle and hogs.

Miss Maudie Hubbard, of New Amsterdam, Ind., spent last week with relatives here.

Mr. Ben Curl and Miss Hettie Bennett were united in matrimony July 1st. Rev. J. B. Haynes officiated.

The Fourth of July celebration given here was a grand success. There was quite a large attendance and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves.

The innocent may be accused but the guilty shall reap their reward. If not in this life it will be in the great Judgment, from whose sentence there is no escape.

Did you ever attend a chewing gum party? This is a new fad in society. Miss Myrtle Chism is the victor here! and as a result she has a very sore mouth.

Rev. Haynes will begin a series of meetings Saturday night at the new church near Cold Spring. The meetings will be held in the grove and a nice and interesting time is anticipated. Rev. Bozarth, of Breckenridge county, is expected to help conduct the services. We need more meetings and better results in this community.

A GODLY MOTHER.

Immortal Life Awaits Her Beyond This "Vale Of Tears"

A LOVING SON'S TRIBUTE.

With grief-laden heart I feel impelled to give expression to my feelings through the medium of your columns to my mother's friends and neighbors in Cloverport, whose sweet sympathy and kind attentions so freely extended during her last illness not only touched and soothed her gentle heart in the closing days of her pure life but were a solace to each member of the family in the deep anxieties and heart rendings they felt in the presence of such a great and overshadowing sorrow; and while no human aid or sympathy could relieve the physical sufferings of her agonizing death, nor assuage the grief of the desolated home, yet the manifestations of love that were shown reached all our hearts and lent a softening, mellowing influence to the keenness of the anguish that only those can know who have experienced the gloom that follows the visitation of the Angel of Death into a home and claims a devoted mother and the companion of many years. Terrible and heavy as falls the blow I am rejoiced to say that my sainted mother not only accepted with sweetest, truest resignation the will of the Master but answered the final summons with the fullest of Christian hope that immortal life awaited her beyond this "Vale of tears."

To all who knew her intimately or even slightly there will forever remain a pleasant memory of her strong intellectuality and genuine sincerity of soul and purpose. The warm grasp of her hand and tender sympathy that glinted in her eye gave her admission at once to the heart, and the records of such lives as hers cannot be effaced by time, for they are written on tablets that do not perish. Endowed with a meek and gentle spirit and of quiet, retiring ways, she was seen at her best in the home to whose interests she was specially and fondly devoted, and her passing out and away from that inner circle is like "breaking the alabaster box" and setting free the precious perfumes of her pure and Godly life. It will be well for us all if we shall be guided by the beautiful example her life affords, and if we are strong enough to follow in the path she led which was the one marked out by the Saviour, then we too will be ready and willing to answer the final summons.

It is both painful and pleasant to write thus of a Godly mother, and I can personally add to the sad, sweet recollections of a sainted wife who after long and similar sufferings preceded her to the other shore, and I know they are now together in God's Paradise of Rest, for in this life they were attached to each other by the strongest ties of human affection. How much closer and holier must be the heavenly relation into which they have entered! Though we have committed their frail mortality to earth, the tomb can have no terrors for us when we think of their glorified spirits set free in the realms of eternal day. Then why should we grope among the shadows of the churchyard or seek the living among the dead?

We sometimes speak of their lives as ended, their work as finished, but not so, for the dawning of that "Perfect day" into which they passed and after which no light can follow nor clouds obscure the way, marked the real beginning of life to them. I try to look upon these mysteries of God's providence as further evidence of His abiding interest in us, and each loved one whom he takes away from us as another "anchor dropped within the veil" to fix and steady our affections upon the everlasting shores. But over and against this comforting spiritual view, the human that is within us will ever and anon assert itself in vain regrets and longings and then those beautiful but sorrowful lines of Tennyson send a chill through our aching hearts as we recall the sweet associations of the past and cry out, "Oh, Death in Life; the days that are no more," and Our longing

"For the touch of a vanished hand, And the sound of a voice that is still" finds no response at all. To some comfortless hearts this seems like cold and cruel fate, but we should not contend against the irrevocable decrees of God for His ways are past finding out. Then not comprehending the mysteries of either life or death, or the unknown future which stretches out before us, we must and will believe that "He doeth all things well," for He has said, "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter."

I have written these poor lines with a tremulous hand prompted by the tender tie that runs through all the years of my life and binds them with mother love, now broken but not destroyed, and ask you to print them in affectionate remembrance of her whose hands were never too tired to toil for the weakest or the strongest of her loved ones, and whose heart knew no bounds or limit to the love she bore for those who were near and dear to her.

Sincerely and sorrowfully,

HARDINSBURG

Next Saturday is Democratic Convention day.

Major Horace Scott has returned from Louisville.

Mr. Estell Sutton spent the 4th here with his wife and baby.

Mrs. Nora Lennin and her children are visiting at Stephensport.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Beard, of Louisville, are visiting Major Scott's family.

Miss Minnie Reading, of Evansville, Ind., is visiting Mrs. C. L. Beard.

Miss Maud Smith, of Sturgis, Ky., will be here this week to visit relatives.

Mrs. Ada Meador, of Big Spring arrived last Sunday to visit relatives here.

Miss Lena Drury, of Bewleyville, arrived last week to visit Miss Mary Board.

All of the Hardinsburg Democrats seem to be pleased with the Kansas City ticket.

Miss Etta Clarkson will return to her home in Meade county to spend the summer.

Mrs. Stum and children, of Sacramento, Ky., are here visiting her mother, Mrs. R. May.

We have the largest stock of penny candies in town. Come in and make a selection.—Eclipse.

Pocket knives? Yes, we are right in the market with a fine lot of pocket knives. Come in and see them.—Eclipse.

Everything's going up they say. Everything but the poor workman's wage, and he's got a kick coming that may knock somebody off the perch.

John Heston and wife were here last Sunday, the guests of his mother. John is traveling for a wholesale grocery house in Louisville and his home merchants should remember him when they want to buy groceries.

The young man from Glendean who drives the horse with the snow white harness has come to stay. He will not spend any more rainy Sundays in the country. No, not while his best girl stays in Hardinsburg.

Judge Nicholas McMercer seems to be leading the Democratic hosts of the county at present and if the Judge can succeed in carrying them to victory in the next county race he will be a good one to follow.

Picnics usually draw big crowds. The Fourth was a typical picnic day and the crowd came in here from all directions. A picnic is announced for Garfield in the near future, and no doubt there will be plenty of folks to go to Garfield.

So Burrell Beard wants to run for County clerk on the Republican ticket. Well when the Puts all get in the field for this fat office there will be a mighty mix up among them. If Cunningham goes in the fight somebody will know he's been there before they quit the fight.

Mr. Cordie Lewis, the son of Henry Lewis, the shoemaker, was here last week to visit his father. Young Lewis has been living in New Albany, Ind., for many years. He went there fourteen years ago and began working in the Woolen Mills and has been with them ever since. He went there when quite a boy, has since married and is doing well. His wife was here with him.

ADDISON.

Most of our neighbors spent the 4th at Cannelton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fetter, of Louisville, are visiting her mother, Mrs. John Burks.

Dan Willett has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. L. D. Addison, and friends across the river.

Mr. Fred Glier, of Denver, Col., is visiting his brothers-in-law, the Messrs. Dick here.

Quite a good many of this community went to the funeral of Mr. Lu Roberts, of Stephensport.

The merry hum of the thresher is heard and farmers are watching closely the wheat market.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burks Jr., returned to Cloverport from a pleasant visit to his mother, Mrs. John Burks, Sr., of the "Highlands."

L. D. Addison went to Louisville to attend the funeral of his cousin, Mr. F. M. Lampton, the president of the Lampton Crane & Ramey Co., of Louisville.

Mrs. Robinson and daughter, Mrs. Carne, and grand-son, George Robinson Carne, of Chicago, who have been visiting relatives at Louisville, are now visiting the family of L. D. Addison.

Mrs. Luther Richardson of Davies county arrived yesterday to visit her mother, Mrs. Sallie Yeager.

Miss Elizabeth Bowmer has returned from a visit to Henderson.
